Location³

1. Born and raised a cheesehead. Lived in central Wisconsin and went to undergrad in Madison.
2. Moved to the "Little Apple," Manhattan, Kansas for graduate school. Never saw a tornado, but did visit the Wizard of Oz museum.
3. Made the migration to my first "metro area" in 2006. Worked around the District and completed my second round of graduate school.

College³

University of Wisconsin
 Bachelor of Arts
 Leadership Certificate
 Technical Communications Certificate

Kansas State University
 M.S. in College Student Development
 Thesis: Social Impacts of Facebook

George Mason University
 Master of Business Administration
 Emphasis: Information Systems & Entrepreneurship

Agency Experiences

U.S. Department of Justice
 (Fox Valley Technical College)
Online Outreach & Technology Coordinator
 I work for the Bureau of Justice Assistance's National Training Center. In an office of 6, I wear a lot of hats. I manage our online communications (web & social media), coordinate live online events, and serve as a PM for technology-based projects.

U.S. Department of Defense
 (L-3 Communications)
Project Manager / Technical Director
 I led a team developing a content management system (CMS) and 4 international websites for a diverse set of DoD clients. I regularly met with senior officials, developed project roadmaps, and oversaw successful launch of CMS and websites.

Other Experiences

DemConnect
Founder & CEO
 A new startup / pet project I'm working on that is a data and research based company focused on online outreach in the government sector.

Mynette Management Company
Constituent Outreach Consultant
 Assisted NPOs in online outreach strategies.

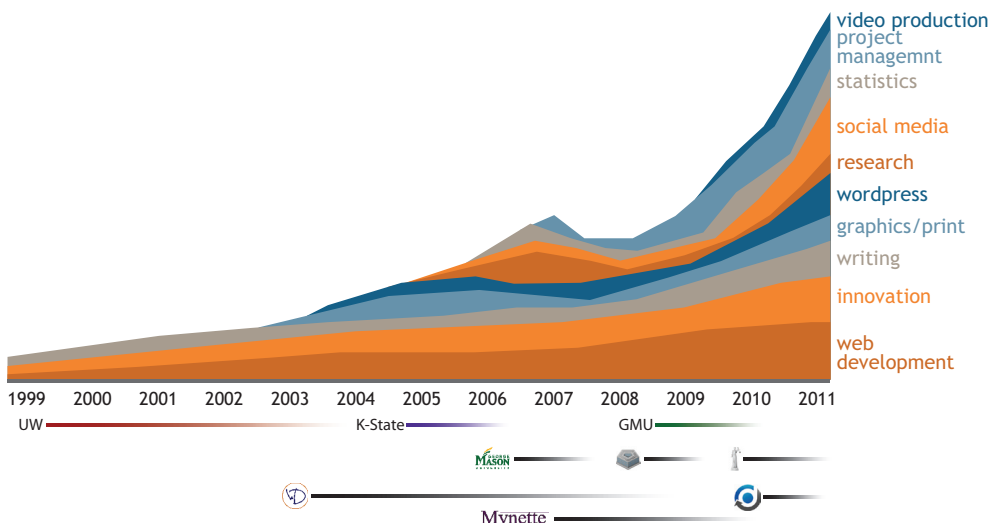

Webtomic
Chief Executive Officer
 A little freelance shop I set up on the side to tackle social media and web strategy for a variety of clients. (Logo pictured was the first version from 2006.)

George Mason University
Resident Director
 Prior to jumping into online outreach and technology, I worked for a few universities in the "dorms" overseeing and managing residential operations. Great experiences and amazing students.
